BITTER MORTIFICATION OF THE TORIES.

A Heavy Blow to the House of Lords.

TELEGRAM TO THE NEW YORK HERALD.

LONDON, July 20, 1871. In the House of Commons this evening Mr. Gladstone announced that the Queen nad solved the purchase problem by cancelling the royal warrant legalizing the purchase of commissions in the army. He declared that the House of Lords, though impugning the government plan for its abolition, had failed to sustain the purchase system. Hence the Ministers had advised Her Majesty to take action ance with the manifest will of the country. TRIUMPH OF THE GOVERNMENT—DISCOMFITURE OF THE TORIES.

This declaration was received with vehe cheering in the House. But Mr. Disraell and the tory members generally were unable to dissemble their anger, and bitterly denounced the arbitrary course of the government. Their leaders were puzzled to suggest what action should be taken at an event which they were hardly prepared for, notwithstanding obscure foreshadowings in the Stan dard of yesterday and to-day.

THE BELL TOWERS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD:-Has it never occurred to the city authorities (and he newspapers) that these are built in violation of a plain principle of acoustics? The earth is a better conductor of sound than the air, and it has been thousand times proved that a beli rung beneath the surface of the earth can be heard at a greater distance than if rung above it. The only difficulty in propagating sound through the medium difficulty in propagating sound through the medium of earth, consists in the enfeeblement of the sound-wave as it passes through a necessary stratum of air near the bell and another near the air. Still the true policy is to keep the bells in close proximity to the earth. The principle has been illustrated by the great bell of Moscow, the tocsin upon which resounded far beyond the himits of the city; also by the old cracked bell of the City Hall, which, when sounded near the surface of the earth, was heard many miles away. Why don't the city authorities (and the newspapers), consult the men of science before they build bell-towers?

J. C. Morris, formerly of Warren county, Georgia, but now a resident of Atlanta, in that State, testifled before the Ku Klux Committee to-day that he was elected Sheriff of Warren county in 1868; served one year, but was compelled to leave the county by an organized band of Ku Klux. He was under examination for five hours, during which he said on one occasion he was met and waylaid by disguised men and shot at and padly wounded. He gave a circumstantial account of the killing of Dr. Darden, who had been put into jail to await trial for murder. The doctor was taken out by disguised men, who burned down the fall in order to reach the prisoner. They forced him to surrence to them the pistoi in his possession and led him forth and shot him dead. This was in 1869. While attempting to make arrests of the guilty parties the witness was forced to flee from the county. None of them have been tried or punished. The witness detailed various instances of outrages. He and others had sheltered six or seven men who had escaped the threats of the Ku Klux and afterwards run them off to a place called Dearing. There they were seized by disguised men. One of the fugitives escaped, but his companions were murdered. The witness also gave an account of the circumstances attending the murder of State Senator Atkins on his return from Wash ington by disguised men. There had been no murders in the county of Warren since the beginning of 1870. The people, however, are in great terror and fear of their lives. Large numbers of colored men have gone to Mississippi, Louisiana and other States where they deem they will be more secure.

A WOMAN'S BLESSING ON THE MAYOR.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD .-The Chief Magistrate of this great metropolis, the Hon. A. Oakey Hall, has nobly proved himsel worthy of the title prefixed to his name. Hence forth it will be, for him, no empty, meaningless title. The hearts as well as the lips of the citizen will speak when they say, "His Honor the Mayor, God bless him," for to his wise and humane policy. his strict fulfilment of his duty as chief the city, regardless of any outside considerations the city, regardless of any outside considerations, and to that alone, is due our geliverance from what, but for his timely intervention and protest, would have been, as the sad events of the 12th only too clearly prove, the most disgraceful, senseless and shoody riot that ever brought "battle, murder and sudden death" into our midst.

Blinded by political passion and prejudice, or by false and isnatical ideas of liberty and patriotism, a great portion of the community is not yet able to see the truth in this matter and to accord this honor to our Mayor. So strangely blind, indeed, are they, so sadly is their reason unsettled and perverted that in the humane and heroic guardian of their peace, who, regardless of the consequences to himself, which he could not fail clearly to foresee, and what merited only their gratitude and respect, they see only a coward, an enemy and a traitor! Blindness, strange and sad, indeed, with which let us not be unmercitully severe, but, following Mayor Hall's own generous example, look upon rather in sorrow than in anger. Time works wonders. When it brings back to them their right minds, their own consciousness of error and sense of shame will be punishment severe enough.

than in anger. Time works wonders. When it brings back to them their right minds, their own consciousness of error and sense of shame will be punishment severe enough.

Let those memoers of the community who, having no part in politics, happily escape both the danger and the imputation of being so prejudiced, bilinded and demoralized by the influence of party feeling as to be incapable of seeing and judging rightly; let the women of New York, who have such deed cause to be grateful to the Mayor, prove themselves, in deed and in truth, the "better half" of the community by giving honor to whom honor is so richly due, and, as some atonement for the wrongs done him by so many of his own sex, constitute themselves his learness champions and defenders.

An eloquent tribute to their prowess on the 12th from the graceful pen of one of my own sex has gladdened the hearts of the brave policemen and found an echo in many a grateful citizen's heart. Small the higher moral courage of the Mayor, who in his efforts to protect the city from the richers subjected himself to wounds more painful than those of the field, go without public recognition and reward on the part of my sex? Is the bloodless triumph of his single hard-working heart and brain over the brute force and savage propensities of thousands less glorious, less to be honored than that achieved by the clubs of the policemen and the guns of the soldery? Ah i no woman in whose heart the music of the "still small voice" is not drowned by the "rain from joining in the fervent prayer, "God bless the Mayor and all whom he holds dear."

SCHOOLBOYS AS SOLDIERS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD:-

Permit me to say a few important words in regard to our public schools in the metropolis, which are not equalled in any other city, in the man-ner in which they are governed. I would deem it necessary to speak of one of the many thing wanting to tend to the amusement and physical exercise of the scholars of our different institutions f learning.
It would not be a bad idea if each school would organize itself into a "school regiment," on the same pian as our multia, and make it a part of their same pian as our militia, and make it a part of their duty to give public parades and military drilis on the national holidays or on such days as the Board or Superintendent would see fit. Or else, if a regiment from each school does not meet with approval, let the 800 or 900 students in the Coilege of the City of New York form themselves into a body on the same plan as the Boston School regiment, which is composed of students in the High School of that city. Instead of interfering with the regular routine of study it would greatly relieve the monotony of school-life, which so seldom is the case with every schoolboy. Therefore les some of our wealthy chizens come forward and support this movement in the right direction, and lot the "Boys of Thirty-dre" start the ball a roubing, and then we can see how our sons can muster in strength. Belleving you will give your support to this wise measure, I remain yours. POLENTIA. A NEW DOWN EAST SENSATION.

Severe Earthquake Shocks in Maine, New Hampshire and Massachusetts.

Three Distinct Vibrations Felt in Boston.

Houses Shaken to Their Foundations-Consternation Among the Inhabitants.

TIDAL WAVE AT EASTPORT, MAINE,

Regular Shake in Massachusetts Alarmed-Three Bistinct Shocks Felt-Severe Vibrations in Other Cities.

The New England States have again been disturbed by an unmistakable and genuine earthquake. The shock of last autumn was regarded as altogether an exceptional affair, but in less than a year the Yankees have been disturbed in their slumbers by one of these unwelcome terrestrial commotions. The disturbance occurred about one o'clock this morning. It appears to have extended and Maine. It was most severe in New Hampshire, where buildings were violently shaken, crockery thrown down, doors settled, bells rung and other abnormal demonstrations made. In different sections of Boston the shock was distinctly felt, and thousands of persons were AWAKENED FROM A SOUND SLEEP. All accounts state that there was a decided and well marked jarring and quaking, sufficient to distinguish it as an earthquake. In the United States Court House, State House and other large buildings the shock was particularly felt. Occurring at such a part of the night it did not attract the attention which it otherwise would. Many attributed this jarring sensation to a passing team or some other cause. A gentleman living on Mount Pleasant felt THREE DISTINCT SHOCKS.

The first of which aroused himself and wife, sne insisting that there was somebody else in the room. The shock was very perceptibly felt in all parts of Cambridge, a large number of persons being awakened by the same. A gentleman who resides on North avenue states that he was awake at the time, and his first impression was that some one was trying to get into his room, but immediately after the bed shook and the whole HOUSE TREMBLED VIOLENTLY.

The jar lasted about ten seconds. A Mr. Simon Algheria, wno resides at the corner of Norfolk and Worcester streets, was awakened by the shock, and, believing the noise and jar to be occasioned by burglars, opened one of his chamber windows and shouted loudly for a policeman. Officers Copeland and Livingston soon appeared and searched the premises, but without finding a thief. They then informed Mr, Aigheria of the shock, and he and his disturbed family once more retired to their rest, apparently much relieved. Two shocks were felt at Winter Hill, Somerville-bling noise, hardly explainable from its queerness. The clock on the brick church on Highland avenue struck one a few seconds after the last shock. Residents of Jamaica Plain felt the shock plainly. It was also very decided at Concord, Mass., and the first being the strongest. Those who were awakened by it term the second as being a rum-

Severe Shocks Throughout Maine-Tidal Wave at Eastport.
PORTLAND, Me., July 20, 1871. The shock of the earthquake at this point was peculiar. It was not like that experienced last year, regular elevening vioration but a violent tremb ting with a low moaning noise. Every structure 1 the city was shaken, but not one was much injured. because the motions, though vigorous, were simply terribly tremulous. People leaped from their beds an terribly tremulous. People leaped from their beds and ran into the streets and in many instances utterly regardless of the sacrednees of drapery. The shock was also very distinctly felt by vessels in the harbor, and in one bark a man in his fright jumped overboard. He was rescued.

At Augusta, Bangor and other points the shock was of the same character—violent, but not destructive, by reason, perhaps, of its slight length in vibration.

In Eastport the shock was felt more severely, and there was quite a tidal wave, but still no damage resulted.

The Granite State Shaken from Its Propriety-Consternation Among Citizens.
PORTSMOUTH, N. H., July 20, 1871.

A severe shock of earthquake was felt in this city bout one o'clock this morning. Windows and crockery rattled, beds shook, the old plastering on the pail fell, and the night workmen in one of the the jail fell, and the night worknien in one of the breweries ran out very much frightened.

A gentleman just from Mount Washington says the effect there was very startling, and some of the guests at the Tip Top House declared that they were really pitched out of their beds. CONCORD, N. H., July 20, 1971.

A very heavy shock of earthquake was feit here at five minutes of one o'clock this morning, accompanied by a deep, heavy, tumbling noise. It passe from north to south. Buildings were violently rocked and a church bell rung. Reports from the different parts of the State indicate that it was very general. MANCHESTER, July 20, 1871. Several shocks of earthquake were feit by the people of this city at about five minutes before one o'clock this morning. The shocks were accompanied by a heavy rumbling noise and the doors and windows and furniture of many houses were rattied, causing considerable alarm to the immates. The vibrations lasted about haif a minute. The most severe earthquake shock in this region

GREAT FALLS, July 20, 1871. Two heavy shocks of earthquake, following it quick succession, were felt here this morning about one o'clock. They continued about thirty seconds and seemed to pass from northeast to southwest. So violent were the vibrations that windows and furniture were shaken and door bells rung. A heavy rain of several hours' duration followed.

Keens, July 20, 1871. Two severe shocks of earthquake were feit here this morning about seven minutes of one. The motions seemed to be from sast to west and were of about ten seconds' duration. They were accompa-nied by a heavy rumbing noise. Bells were rung and buildings violently shakes.

The Department of Public Parks announce that if the weather be fine there will be music by the Centrai Park Band at the Battery Park to-day from six to eight P. M.

While James Ward, a young man of twenty years, was standing on the pier foot of Twenty-second street, East River, on Wednesday evening, he was taken with a fit, and falling into the dock was drowned. Officer Heaty, of the Eighteenth precinct, subsequently recovered the body and took it to the Morgue to await an investigation before Coroner Keenan.

Coroner Keenan yesterday beld an inquest at 273 Fifth avenue over the remains of Mr. Frederick Q. Sweetzer, late a merchant at 81 Worth street, who was found dead in eed at seven o'clock in the morn-ing. Wooster Beach, M. D., made a post-mortem examination on the body and found that death re-sulted from uremia. Mr. Sweetzer was a native of massachusetts and aged twenty-six years.

An unknown man, aged about forty-five years and five feet nine inches high, was brought to the Morgue from 235 East Fourth street. The deceased had blue eyes, dark brown hair and mustache. On his person was found a book, with the name "Fred. William Adams, Grenville, near Jersey City." He was dressed in black coat and vest, black necktie, gray mixed pants and shoes. The body was placed on the Mongue and photograph taken. At a meeting of the Roard of Police Commission ers yesterday morning Captain De Camp, of the Second precinct, was placed on the retired list at his own request, on a salary of $1,000 per annum. Captain De Camp has been on the police force of this city twenty-one years, during which time he was ever found at his post of duty, and performed his arduous labors with a zeal and promptness worthy of imitation. The officers who were wounded in the riot on the 12th were prometed to roundsmen, and several changes were made in the personnel of the precincts. last evening at St. Columba's Hall, West Twentyfifth street. Delegates from all the temperance societies connected with the different Catholic churches in the city were present, except St. Bridget's and St. Jerome's; Mr. Nutley, the President of the Convention, in the chair and Mr. McMackin, secretary. Addresses were made and resolutions adopted showing that officer Patrick Logan was a brave man, and, together with other temperance men, had denounced the idea of interiering with the Orangemen.

A meeting of the Richard O'Gorman Benevolens Association of the First ward took place last evening, at the association's rooms, 94 Greenwich street ing, at the association's rooms, 94 Greenwich street, and completed arrangements for the summer festival, to take place on Wednesday next. The association numbers over two hundred members, including the following officers:—President, James Cherry; Vice President, Thomas Brannigan; Recording Secretary, Henry Bick; Corresponding Secretary, M. P. McNamara; Financial Secretary, J. J. Whelan; Treasurer, James McCauley; Board of Trustees, Thomas Cherry, Pat. Cullen, M. T. Griffin, Thomas F. Sheehan, W. D. WHERE TO GET CHEAP COUNTRY BOARD.

NEW YORK, July 20, 1971. TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD:-I have read in your valuable journal several complaints that the watering places in this vicinity are leserted, the cause of which is that those which are generally patronized, such as Long Branch, Rocks way, &c., are practicable only to millionnaires, while over others the dark clouds of rowdyism, gambling and dissipation rest. The expense of living at some of them for a short season has to be atoned for by a long winter's economy-an almost impossible virtue in this gay metropolis. But all this can be avoided by seeking new fields of health imposable virtue in this gay metropois. But and inis can be avoided by seeking new fields of health and pleasure, as I did, by placing myself on board the stea Ber Helen, Captain Throgmorton, and running down to the Hook, where we entered the Sarrewsbury River amid scenery fully equal to that of the Rhine, the Avon, the Blackwater or the Lee. Every mile or two was a safe and easy landing, with fine hotels, &c. I went asnore at Fairbaven (an appropriate name), and after being inwardly refreshed, prospected the neighbornood and found dozens of houses along the beach where visitors could getwell boarded and housed, with every facility for bathing in the purest kind of sait water, boating, nishing, &c., for the moderate charge of $6 a $5 per week. Crabs, clasms, cysters, &c., lay all around, waiting their turn to be caught. Of course I located there for the balance of the season, and recommend others to do likewise.
